Explain what is a positive know. A positive No will address both power and relationship to serve your own interests. The Key to positive No is respect: A positive No VS Accommodation, you give respect to yourself and what is important to you. A positive No VS Attack, you give respect to the other too as you say no to their demand or behavior.

Or we do say No but say it in a way that blocks agreement and destroys relationships. We submit to inappropriate demands, injustice, even abuse – or we engage in destructive fighting in which everyone loses. The way out of this trap is what I call a Positive No. In contrast to an ordinary No which begins with No and ends with No, a Positive No begins with Yes and ends with Yes.

Though Ury's subtitle, "Save the Deal, Save the Relationship and Still Say No," focuses on interpersonal conflict, I have found the positive no formula helpful in many situations. For example, I have said no to quite a few things that I previously enjoyed -- nail polish, hair driers, meat (mostly), clothing driers, etc. -- because the "yes" is so much bigger: a clean, livable climate for ...

This leads us back to the power of a positive No. The command of God is very clear: "Be ye holy," 1 Peter 1:16. This does not mean that we can purify ourselves through human effort alone, nor does it mean that God will do it all without our cooperation. He will never do for us what He has given us the power and ability to do for ourselves. Even though the possibility of victory rests with God ...
